
CURRICULUM ADAPTATIONS FOR SPECIAL STATUS STUDENTS

Depending on the requested status and submitted documentation, you may obtain the following curriculum benefits:

- reduction of compulsory presence and/or a partly excused absence in joint study obligations, approved with the courses' professor;
- taking the exam outside examination timetable and in a customized manner (e.g. oral exam instead of written);
- up to two supplementary examination dates and up to two supplementary colloquium dates for each study course in a given academic year;
- a deferred deadline for presenting the seminar work and for taking the colloquium and exam in the event of participating in competitions at home or abroad;
- enrollment in a subsequent year or an extended student status for up to one year under special conditions defined in the university statute.

HOW TO OBTAIN THE STATUS?

You must apply for a special status when enrolling in college and after the expiration of a special status. In the event that special circumstances arise during the academic year, you can apply later.

The application and other information can be found at the following website:
